and she has freckles all over her face and arms.

QUESTION:
What traits did Mary inherit from her father?

Name _____	Date _____
CER RESPONSE – DOG FOOD
Directions: Follow the directions to complete your claim, evidence, reasoning response.
Dogs are no longer pets, they are now family members. It is estimated that the Americans spend $610 billion on their pets each year. So, will spending more on their food help them live longer? Of the few studies done to determine if a more expensive diet is healthy, the results were that dogs who were given a diet of prepared kibble or food from human meals lived the longest. However, scientists are not able to determine if this is true because of the diet or that the animal is probably better cared for. Dog food should meet nutritional requirements and be filled with fresh, quality ingredients. However, like humans, there are many other factors that need to be addressed in order to live a healthy life.
Claim: Will expensive food help my dog live longer?
Evidence: Identify evidence that supports your claim.
Reasoning: Connect your evidence to scientific reasoning.

Rather, our emphasis is on what could be gained by thinking about classroom assessment in light of the principles of cognition and reasoning from evidence emphasized throughout this report. Informed consent is a principle in medical ethics and medical law that a patient should have sufficient information before making their own free decisions about their medical care. A healthcare provider is often held to have a responsibility to ensure that the consent that a patient gives is informed. Scientific evidence is information that is used to support or reject a hypothesis. Scientific evidence is usually generated through observations of phenomena that occur in the natural world, or which are created as experiments in a laboratory or other controlled conditions. Scientists tend to focus on how the data used during statistical inference are generated. Scientific evidence usually goes towards supporting or rejecting a hypothesis.
